

Bib Number Placement

One of the most significant contributors to delayed, inaccurate and missing results is an obscured or improperly positioned race number. Follow this guide below to ensure you are positioning and pinning your race number correctly so the finish line camera & judges can properly capture and score you in race results.

Key Points to Remember

- Placement
Line up the bottom of your number with the front seam of your jersey's side panel. Number should face camera and judges.
Numbers may not be placed inside of pockets or behind any material which reduces their visibility.
- Pinning Technique
Always push the pin through the number, then through the jersey fabric, and back out through the jersey and number.
Avoid pre-punched holes- do not pin through the holes already in the race number, as this can cause it to flap.
- Number of Pins
Use at least 6 pins per number, with one in each corner and side to ensure stability
